

Infants, Toddler, and Twos Curriculum

Infants, Toddler, and Twos experience teachers reading stories to them, singing to music or own their own, hand and foot motions to music, nursery rhymes, and more as the teachers interact with the children throughout the day.

The All Ready to Learn Curriculum developed by Mary Ann Giraud and published by Smith County Champions for Children organization supports children through each developmental stage from babies through preschoolers. Weekly plans for infants, toddler, and twos will include many developmentally appropriate activities from teacher interaction with infants during tummy time on the floor to art activities with the two year olds. From rolling over to beginning to make their own scrawls on paper to potty training, the All Ready To Learn curriculum provides activity ideas for it all to help our littlest students reach their potential.

Wee Learn Curriculum is used as a supplement to the All Ready to Learn curriculum. Teachers of all ages develop weekly activity/lesson plans for their groups to help our littlest ones reach developmental milestones. Instruction is individualized to optimize growth and development.

Toddlers and Twos learn songs and activities in the Music and Movement class each week and join in our programs for parents throughout the year. They begin to learn early childhood songs such as “Jesus Loves Me,” “If You’re Happy and You Know It,” and much, much more. Many parents express surprise and excitement as they hear their children singing songs they’ve learned at school.

In addition to fun in the classroom, Infants and Toddlers love going for rides in the “Bye, Bye Buggies.” The PCC teachers push our littlest ones along the sidewalks outside each day that they weather is appropriate and often around the inside of the building when the weather keeps them inside. It’s a way to see the school when inside and the world when outside. This is likely the favorite activity of our littlest students.
